

The Evolution of Planning Thought

Peter Hall, CV

Prof. of Planning & Regeneration, University College London, GB

Sir Peter Hall is Professor of Planning and Regeneration at the Bartlett School of Architecture and Planning, University College London, and Senior Research Fellow at the Young Foundation (formerly the Institute of Community Studies), where he served as Director from 2001 to 2004. From 1991-94 he was Special Adviser on Strategic Planning to the Secretary of State for the Environment, with special reference to issues of London and South East regional planning including the East Thames Corridor (Thames Gateway) and the Channel Tunnel Rail Link. In 2006 he was a member of the Expert Advisory Committee to the Barker Review of the planning system. He was a founder member of the Regional Studies Association and first editor of its journal Regional Studies (1967-78). He was Chairman of the Town and Country Planning Association (1995-9) and is now President and a member of its Board of Trustees and Policy Council. He is joint editor of the journal Built Environment. He is a former Trustee of the Architecture Foundation. Beyond his extensive UK-centred academic and consultancy work that has spanned decades, Peter has consulted on a variety of government projects and initiatives at the international level. In the United States he has given testimony to committees of Congress and of the California Legislature on the concept of the Enterprise Zone. Peter was an expert adviser to the Government of South Australia for the Strategic Review for Metropolitan Adelaide and a member of the Singapore Government's advisory committee on their review of the Concept Plan (2001-3), to name but a few. He is author, co-author or editor of 50 books including The World Cities (1966, 1977, 1983), Urban and Regional Planning (1975, 1982), Cities of Tomorrow (1988), Cities in Civilization (1998), Urban Future 21 (2000), The Polycentric Metropolis (2006) and Good Cities, Better Lives: How Europe Discovered the Lost Art of Urbanism (2013).
